Viticus Group 95th WVC Annual Conference – Advancing Veterinary Medicine for Almost a Century

One of the Largest & Original Veterinary Medicine Conferences in the Country
Coming Feb. 19 to 22 to Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS—Viticus Group, a leading provider of continuing education for veterinary and medical healthcare professionals worldwide, is set to kick off its 95th WVC Annual Conference from Sunday, Feb. 19 to Wednesday, Feb. 22 at Mandalay Bay Convention Center and Viticus Center – Oquendo Campus in Las Vegas. With more than 800 hours of continuing education (CE) credits spanning from dentistry to ultrasound to orthopedics and more, 25-plus hands-on lab trainings, world class entertainment such as financial behaviorist Jeff Kreisler sponsored by Zoetis; country female artist Ashley McBryde sponsored by Merck Animal Health; Cirque du Soleil KA sponsored by Hill's; and more, this is the premier veterinary education conference to attend.

"Viticus Group and its WVC Annual Conference have educated thousands of veterinary medicine professionals since 1928," said Andrea Davis, chief executive officer, Viticus Group. "Our 95-year legacy proves the strength in our innovative education, programs and offerings to those who care for our animals."

More than 450 animal health experts are expected to educate registrants this year including, but not limited to, these highly anticipated speakers:

- Dr. Gemma Campling, founder, Worldwide Vets – On-the-ground veterinary work during Ukraine crisis
- Dr. Michael Lappin, professor, Colorado State University - His laboratory studies immune responses to vaccination against respiratory viruses in cats, as well as immune responses to feline vaccines (more)

- Dr. Dani McVety, founder & CEO, Lap of Love – hospice veterinarian, consultant, author, and host for PetCareTV

Top-level sponsors include Zoetis, Boehringer Ingelheim, Merck Animal Health and Hill's.
