Inaugural WVC Nashville 2026 Launches its First-Ever Conference Elevated Continuing Education Experiences Found Only at WVC

NASHVILLE, TN—Viticus Group, a nonprofit organization and leading provider of innovative veterinary and human healthcare education worldwide headquartered in Las Vegas, proudly launches its inaugural WVC Nashville veterinary education conference from Aug. 15–18 at Music City Center. The conference offers three-plus days and 400-plus hours of continuing education, an exhibit hall featuring more than 300 exhibitors at Music City Center, more than 15 hands-on lab trainings (additional purchase required) at its Nashville purpose-built education center, Nashville-style entertainment and much more. Amongst the continuing education offerings, the event kicks off with its Nash Bash Block Party, continues with General Session speaker Miranda Lambert and a Tails & Tunes music festival atmosphere featuring Blanco Brown, Uncle Kracker and Grethen Wilson. Conference participants include mostly veterinarians, as well as veterinary technicians, practice managers and adjacent veterinary professionals.

"The wait is over...we are officially bringing the electric energy of Las Vegas straight to the heart of Music City!" said Andrea Davis, CEO of Viticus Group. "Launching WVC Nashville isn't just about opening a new location; it's a bold step forward in making world-class continuing education more accessible and inclusive than ever before. We've led the way in Vegas for nearly a century, and we couldn't be more thrilled to kick off this exciting new chapter for Viticus Group in Nashville today."

The WVC Nashville conference coincides with its opening of the new education center as part of Viticus Group's expansion to Nashville. The organization is opening its additional education centers, located just five minutes from Nashville International Airport and 15 minutes from Music City Center. The expansion adds nearly 80,000 sq. ft. of state-of-the-art training space in adjacent centers and is expected to welcome 15,000-plus participants annually with the combination of WVC Nashville and both education centers once fully operational. Major sponsors of WVC Nashville include Boehringer Ingelheim, VEG, Zoetis, Elanco and Hill's, as well as several other supporters.

With its flagship WVC Annual Conference continuing in Las Vegas and nearing its centennial in 2028, Viticus Group remains dedicated to providing unmatched continuing education as it welcomes participants to its second home in Nashville. Additionally, WVC Nashville, the first new national veterinary continuing education conference in more than 40-plus years, is an experience that will match the energy and level of continuing education that WVC participants expect, expanding Viticus Group's legacy of delivering premier continuing education and networking opportunities. Specifically, with the concentration of veterinary professionals in the geographic areas near Nashville, the accessible and centrally located city provided a logical choice to create an additional home for Viticus Group.

Viticus Group Nashville Centers mirror Viticus Group's renowned Las Vegas headquarters and its service lines, providing essential, hands-on, real-world training specializing in wet labs. The strategic East Coast location allows the organization to reach a broader professional audience, strengthening workforce development and building practical skills and confidence worldwide.
